

Privacy Policy

IsoPlexis Corporation (“Company” “Us” or “We”) respects your privacy and is committed to protecting it through our compliance with this policy.

This policy describes the types of information we may collect from you or that you may provide when you visit the website www.isoplexis.com (our “Website”) and our practices for collecting, using, maintaining, protecting, and disclosing that information.

Please read this policy carefully to understand our policies and practices regarding your information and how we will treat it. By accessing or using our website, you agree to this privacy policy. This policy may change from time to time. Your continued use of our website after we make changes is deemed to be acceptance of those changes, so please check the policy periodically for updates. Unless otherwise defined in this Privacy Policy, the terms used in this Privacy Policy have the same meanings as in our Terms and Conditions, accessible from www.isoplexis.com

Definitions

Consent

Any freely given, specific, informed, and unambiguous indication of the data subject's wishes by which he or she, either by a statement or by a clear affirmative action, signifies agreement to the processing of personal data

Data Controller

Data Controller means the natural or legal person who (either alone or jointly or in common with other persons) determines the purposes for which and the way any personal information are, or are to be, processed. For this Privacy Policy, we are a Data Controller of your Personal Data.

Data Processor

Data Processor means the natural or legal person who processes Personal Data on behalf of the Data Controller.

Data Subject

Data Subject is any living individual who is using our website and is the subject of Personal Data.

Personal Data

Personal Data means data about a living individual who can be identified from those data (or from those and other information either in our possession or likely to come into our possession).

Usage Data

Usage Data is data collected automatically either generated using the website or from the website infrastructure itself

Information Collection and Use

We collect several different types of information for various purposes to provide and improve our service to you.

Types of Data Collected

Personal Data

While using our website, we may ask you to provide us with certain personally identifiable information that can be used to contact or identify you. Personally identifiable information may include, but is not limited to:

- Email address
- First name and last name
- Position
- Company Name
- Phone number
- Address, State, Province, ZIP/Postal code, City
- Cookies and Usage Data

We may use your Personal Data to contact you with newsletters, marketing or promotional materials and other information that may be of interest to you. You may opt out of receiving any, or all, of these communications from us by following the unsubscribe link or instructions provided in any email we send or by contacting us.

Usage Data

We may also collect information on how the website is accessed and used ("Usage Data"). This Usage Data may include information such as your computer's Internet Protocol address (e.g., IP address), browser type, browser version, the pages of our website that you visit, the time and date of your visit, the time spent on those pages, unique device identifiers and other diagnostic data.

Location Data

We may use and store information about your location if you give us permission to do so ("Location Data"). We use this data to provide features of our website, to improve and customize our website. You can enable or disable location services when you use our website at any time by way of your device settings.

Tracking Cookies Data

We use cookies and similar tracking technologies to track the activity on our website and we hold certain information. Cookies are files with a small amount of data which may include an anonymous unique identifier. Cookies are sent to your browser from a website and stored on your device. Other tracking technologies are also used such as beacons, tags, and scripts to collect and track information and to improve and analyze our website. You can instruct your browser to refuse all cookies or to indicate when a cookie is being sent. However, if you do not accept cookies, you may not be able to use some portions of our website.

Examples of Cookies we use:

- Session Cookies. We use Session Cookies to operate our website.
- Preference Cookies. We use Preference Cookies to remember your preferences and various settings.
- Security Cookies. We use Security Cookies for security purposes.

- Advertising Cookies. Advertising Cookies are used to serve you with advertisements that may be relevant to you and your interests.

Use of Data

IsoPlexis Corporation uses the collected data for various purposes:

- To provide, maintain, and improve our website. We use information passively submitted to improve the content, design, and navigation of our website. In addition, we may use this information for analytics purposes (e.g., analyze site usage patterns, origin of traffic to the Website) so that we can gauge the effectiveness of our marketing programs. Such analysis and research activities may be conducted through third party services, using anonymous data and aggregate statistics. To the extent permitted by applicable law, we may combine the various types of information we collect.
- To respond to your inquiries and provide customer support. We may use your personal data to respond to your inquiries or process a form you have completed on our website.
- To assess whether you are a suitable candidate to work with us. We may use your Personal Data when you are interested in applying for a job with us and choose to submit resume information by email or online
- For marketing of products and services. We may use your Personal Data to provide you with news, special offers, and general information about goods, services, and events which you have already purchased or indicated an interest in, provided that our legitimate interests in carrying these marketing activities are not outweighed by any prejudice or harm to your rights and freedoms. We will provide an option to unsubscribe or opt-out of further communication on any electronic marketing communication sent to you or you may opt out by contacting using the contact information provided below
- To defend our legitimate interests and to change our business structure. We may disclose Personal Data in connection with legal proceedings or investigations anywhere in the world to third parties, such as public authorities, law enforcement agencies, regulators and third-party litigants (these third parties are not Data Processors on behalf of IsoPlexis and will process Personal Data for their own purposes). We may also provide your Personal Data to any potential acquirer of or investor in any part of our business for the purpose of that acquisition or investment.

Retention of Data

IsoPlexis will collect, use, disclose and otherwise process your personal data that is necessary for the purposes identified in this Privacy Notice or as permitted by applicable data protection regulations. Our retention periods for personal data are based on business needs and legal requirements. We retain personal data for as long as is necessary for the processing purpose(s) for which the personal data was collected, and any other permissible, related purpose. For example, we retain your personal data where necessary to comply with our legal obligations (including law enforcement requests), meet regulatory requirements, resolve disputes, maintain security, prevent fraud and abuse, or fulfil your request to “unsubscribe” from further messages from us.

Disclosure and Transfer of Data

Your information, including Personal Data, may be transferred to, and maintained on computers located outside of your state, province, country, or other governmental authority where the data protection laws may differ from those of your jurisdiction.

If you are located outside United States and choose to provide information to us, please note that we transfer the data, including Personal Data, to the United States and process it there. Your consent to this Privacy Policy and your submission of such information represents your agreement to that transfer.

We have engaged various Data Processors for the processing of your Personal Data on our behalf, including IT service providers and other business service providers. These third parties have access to your Personal Data only to perform these tasks on our behalf and are obligated not to disclose or use it for any other purpose. IsoPlexis will take all the steps necessary to ensure that your data is treated securely and in accordance with this Privacy Policy and no transfer of your Personal Data will take place to an organization or a country unless there are adequate controls in place including the security of your data and other personal information.

Security of Data

The security of your data is important to us but remember that no method of transmission over the Internet or method of electronic storage is 100% secure. While we strive to use commercially acceptable means to protect your Personal Data, we cannot guarantee its absolute security.

Your Data Protection Rights under the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR)

If you are a resident of the European Economic Area (EEA), you have certain data protection rights. IsoPlexis Corporation aims to take reasonable steps to allow you to correct, amend, delete, or limit the use of your Personal Data. If you wish to be informed about what Personal Data we hold about you, or if you want it to be removed from our systems, please contact us. In certain circumstances, you have the following data protection rights:

- Right to access personal information. You have the right to access, update or delete the information we have on you. Whenever made possible, you can access, update or request deletion of your Personal Data directly within your account settings section. If you are unable to perform these actions yourself, please contact us to assist you.
- Withdrawing consent. You have the right to have your information rectified if that information is inaccurate or incomplete. In instances where our ability to process your personal information is based on consent, including marketing purposes, you have the right to revoke that consent at any time.
- Erasure or “right to be forgotten.” Some jurisdictions provide individuals with a right to require organizations holding their personal data to erase it. In addition to complying with such requirements in specific jurisdictions, we will attempt to comply with any request to delete information we have collected about you at your request.
- Objecting to processing. You have the right to object to our processing of your Personal Data. If you believe that we are improperly processing your personal information, you may submit a request to change it using the contact information at the bottom of this page. We will review the request and inform you of our response.

- Making a complaint against us. We encourage anyone with questions or complaints about our privacy policy to bring them to our attention. If you would like to make a complaint, some jurisdictions have regulatory bodies to receive and review such complaints, such as the United States Federal Trade Commission. Individuals within the European Union have the right to file a complaint about a violation regarding their personal data with a supervisory authority in the EU Member State of their residence, place of work, or place of alleged violations.

Your Privacy Rights under the California Privacy Rights Act

The California Privacy Rights Act (CPRA) permits California residents who visit our website to request and obtain from us, once a year free of charge, details regarding their personal information (if any) that we disclosed to third parties for direct marketing purposes within the previous calendar year. If applicable, our response to this request will include a list of categories of the personal information that we shared as well as the names and addresses of the third parties. If you are a California resident and would like to make such a request, please submit your request in writing to the address below.
